Due to circumstances beyond the present yearbook staff's control, our family here at N.C.C.U. has gone without an annual for four years. As a result many have lost faith in the yearbook staff thus choosing not to be photographed in this years annual. However, under the direction of Miss Sonji Black, Editor-in-Chief and Miss Angelyn Adams, Co-Editor, this years staff has been able to produce two annuals, 1985-86 and 1987-88 within a six month period. We hope that we have taken steps in the right direction in restoring the confidence of our family here at N.C.C.U.

Cordially yours,

THE HISTORY NORTH CAROLINA CENTRAL UNIVERSITY

North Carolina College at Durham, For a brief period, an interim committee directed the school. Dr. Alfonzo Elder became the institutions second president. Under Dr. Elder, the institution continued to grow. Most of the new buildings on the campus date to Dr. Elder's administration. Dr. Elder who retired in 1963, continued his affiliation with the institution as its president emeritus, until his

Dr. Samuel Proctor Massie was president for the period 1963-1966. In 1966, he joined the faculty of the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Maryland. Again in a transition, an interim committee assumed the functions of the chief administrative officer until Dr. Albert N. Whiting became president in 1967. In 1969, the institution became North Carolina Central University, one of the sixteen tax-supported institution of higher education which compose the University of North Carolina System.

Dr. Whiting has established an Academic Skills Center, a four year nursing program, an elementary education program with emphasis on competencybased training, programs in jazz and sacred music, in public administration, in criminal justice and in media journalism.

The University offers the bachelor's degree in twenty-seven areas in the arts and sciences and the master's degree in business, and the juris doctor and bachelor of laws degrees, and the master's of library science degree.

North Carolina Central University was established in 1910 by Dr. James E. Shepard as the National Training School and Chautaugua. Unlike many predominately black universities which are now state-supported, Dr. Shepard's school was not denominationally affiliated. The founder was active in the Chautaugua and in the International Sunday School Association movement. It was from that ecumenical perspective that he established a school with many purposes, this institution provided secondary education, trade courses, short courses for church workers and baccalaureate programs in the classics and the sciences. The school suffered many financial hardships. In 1915, after bankruptcy proceedings were solved, the institution was recognized as the National Training School with its program primarily that of a secondary academy, although college level degrees were offered. In 1923, Dr. Shepard faced the choice of affiliating with a denomination for support, or seeking state assistance. He chose the second option, and the school became the Durham State Normal School, Two years later it became the North Carolina College for Negroes to receive state support.

In 1939, still under the leadership of Dr. Shepard, the school was authorized to offer graduate and professional programs. The graduate school was opened that fall, the law school in 1940, and the school of library science in 1941.

By the time of Dr. Shepard's death in 1947, the institution had grown to a $4,000,000.00 enterprise of considerable stature. One year later, it became the Currently, North Carolina Central University enrolls nearly 5,000 students in five schools: The undergraduate and Graduate Schools of Arts and Sciences, The School of Business, The School of Law, and the School of Library Science. The University has an annual budget of $25 million.

The University remains predominately black but invites all students to attend. Many students at North Carolina Central receive financial aid. Nine of every ten students are North Carolinians.

NCCU engages in athletic competition in Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) with teams in basketball, football, tennis, track and wrestling. In addition, there are women's teams in softball, basketball, and volleyball. Intramural activities available for both men and women.

The University has a Honors Program, and many academic and cultural organizations, including foreign language and other department clubs, as well as dance and theater groups. It has a distinguished Touring Choir, a Concert Choir, a Marching Band, a Stage Band, and a string ensemble. It provides research opportunities in all areas with grants offered in the sciences.

Among its alumni are Mayor Jackson, Mayor of Atlanta, a graduate of the law school; Clarence Lightner, former Mayor of Raleigh, North Carolina; the late Dr. Vivian Henderson, noted economist and president of Clark College; Hiliary H. Holloway, vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia and a NCCU trustee; the late John H. Wheeler, president of Mechanics and Farmers Bank of Durham, a graduate of the law school; Ronald Barbee, judge of N.C. Superior Court; H.M. Michaux, Jr., former member of the North Carolina General Assembly, and presently U.S. Attorney for the Middle District of North Carolina; W.G. Pearson, II, District Judge; Sam Jones, former, all-pro baskethall player; John Baker, former Pittsburgh Steeler, and now Sheriff of Wake County; Lee Calboun, former Olympic Hurdler, now head track coach at Western Illinois University; Ivan Dixon, television, movie and Broadway actor and director; and Hilda Harris of the New York Lyric Opera Company. Indeed, many successful individuals in business, in education, in law, and medicine are graduates of North Carolina Central University.

Deep within this academic environment, they struggle with truth ... relationships ... mental and emotional development ... moral imperatives ... life planning ... faith and often finances. UCCM stands at strategic points within college days to beckon them unto our Lord Jesus Christ and to point the way towards greater scriptural, mental, emotional and physical maturity.

The Lord is my sheperd; I shall not want. He maketh me to be down in green pastures: he leadeth me beside the still waters. He restoreth my sout: he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death I will fear no evit: for thou are with me; thy rod and thy staff comfort me. Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies: thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over. Surely the goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever. 23 Psalms.

TYRONZA R. RICHMOND became Chancellor of North Carolina Central University in Durham, North Carolina, July 1, 1986. He earned his bachelor of arts degree in mathematics from Fisk University, his master of arts degree in Technology of Management from the American University, and his Ph.D. degree in Operations Research from Purdue University. Dr. Richmond worked for the U.S. Naval Weapons Laboratory in Dahlgren, Virginia until 1972, then he began his teaching career as a visiting faculty member at Syracuse University. He became an associate professor in Howard University's School of Business and Public Administration in August 1972, and was promoted to Associate Dean and Professor in July 1974. Dr. Richmond became Dean of the North Carolina Central University School of Business in 1977. As Dean at NCCU, he was responsible for quadrupling the number of doctoral degree holders on the business school's faculty, for revising the curriculum and structure of the School, and for stiffening the School's admission requirements. He was elected Chancellor of North Carolina Central University by The University of North Carolina Board of Governors in January 1986 at the age of 45.

After the first year of the Richmond administration, the Chancellor's marks on the university included the creation of the College of Arts and Sciences, the establishment of the university's evening degree program in its newly-formed University College, and the institution of a significant program of faculty and staff recognition. The first recognitions were announced at the beginning of the 1987-88 academic year, and saw 16 faculty members named as outstanding researchers or teachers.

Under Dr. Richmond's leadership, new endowment funds have been raised, and the university is investigating ways to enhance its already significant role in the preparation of teachers and administrators for the public schools.

Dr. Richmond has described as his task the building of a strong bridge between town and gown between the university and the community it serves. He is promoting that relationship through his membership on the State Goals and Policy Board, and the Boards of the Greater Durham Chamber of Commerce, Durham War on Drugs, the Greater Triangle Community Foundation, Triangle InROADS, Inc., through his service as chairman of the board of the North Carolina Institute of Minority groups as St. Joseph's AME Church, the Durham Business and Professional Chain, the Durham Rotary Club, Sigma Pi Phi Fraternity, and Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. Among the numerous organizations he served previously as a board member are the American Institute of Business, the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business and Hayti Development Corporation. The Chancellor is also a member of the Association for Computing Machinery and the Operations Research Society of America.

Footprints In The Sand

I dreamed that I had died.

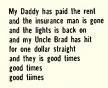

The Lord and I walked side by side, leaving two sets of footprints in the sand. Ahead in the distance, I could see the pearly gates of heaven. I took one last glance behind me, wanting to remember all the footsteps I had taken through life. Behind me, over the smooth and easy paths of my life's journey, there were two sets of footprints in the sand. But where the road was steep and difficult to travel, there appeared only one set of footprints. I asked the Lord this question: "Lord, I believed that you would walk by my side all through my life, during easy times and difficult times. But during the hard journeys, I see only one set of footprints. Why?" The Lord answered, "My child, I was with you all through your travels. But along the most difficult paths, I carried you."

We do not know what the future holds, But toundations are laid everyday. For books of knowledge we paid a price, to help coach us in reaching our goals. ### THE NCCU CONCERT AND Dedicated to the Eagle motto, "Truth and Service," as its purpose, the North Carolina Central University Choirs provide a rich cultural background for its students members. It attempts to fulfill this purpose by exposing its members to the very best in choral music. By doing this, the choir members enrich their lives through contact with people within other areas of our country.

In addition to NCCU Choirs local appearances, they have travelled during past twenty-one years to various places throughout the United States such as New York, White Plains, Schenectady, Massachusettes, Atlantic City, Washington, D.C., and in almost every city in North Carolina. Six years ago, the touring choir was given the honor to perform in the Virgin Island where they always have an outstanding performance. In 1988, both the touring and concert choirs give excellent performances not only to the students and faculty of NCCU, but to the people across the nation. So NCCU Choirs are "in the place to be!"

I

The sloping hills, the verdant green, the lovely blossoms' beauteous sheen Surround our college proud and gay Where wave our colors, Marooon and Gray. What matters it how far we roam, Our thoughts will oft return to home And hearts will e'er be true to thee Our Alma Mater, N.C.C.

REFRAIN

Then Rah! Rah! Rah! for our colors so gay Dear old N.C.C.'s Maroon and Gray; Thy Sons and Daughters will honor thee, Dear old N.C.C.
